Y.E.S.S. Parent Academy Substance Abuse Education

Come learn the truth about drugs and substance abuse.

There will be a short keynote address presented by law enforcement to include how drugs effect the teen brain differently than the adult brain. Then you will attend three interactive breakout sessions where you will learn about what is really out there, how kids are getting it, navigating systems, and other information that will empower parents. We will have a resource fair of service providers sharing information about help in our communities before the academy begins.
